Pakistan is a blend of landscapes varying from plains to deserts, forests, hills, and plateaus ranging from the coastal areas of the Arabian Sea in the south to the high mountains of central Asia in the north. The Himalayas and Karakorams are the world's newest mountains formed as a result of a collision between the Indian geological plate and the Asian plate. Pakistan is so geographically varied that every adventure travel lover in the world would love to take Pakistan tour at least once in their lifetime. From lush green valleys to Cold deserts, and unexplored beaches to the second highest Mountain in the world, from Gilgit Baltistan of North to Ziarat of Baluchistan. Pakistan is blessed with natural landscapes; each one more beautiful than the other.
